ROUNDHOUSE.

Roundhouse Gin is Birmingham's first City Centre Distillery. Besides creating our own signature blend, we also offer personalised gin orders with your own branding and host Gin School Sessions where guests can create their own

GIN SCHOOL.

Besides producing the small batch gin on their impressive copper pot still which can be seen at The Distillery, they also offer guests a bespoke gin making experience. With prices starting at £50pp, visitors are taken on a journey, first touching on the history of gin and its Dutch origins in the form of Genever. Following this, an in depth look in to the world of distilling which includes a breakdown of a wide range of botanicals and their flavour profiles; leading to a supervised demonstration in the art of distilling using a custom recipe unique to each individual. The newly skilled distillers are then able to hand label and seal their creations before taking them away to impress their friends with. The gin school makes for a fantastic day out in pairs or as small groups. Typically, they last around 2 hours with regular gin and tonic top ups included in the price. For enquiries see their website and fill out a booking application to begin your gin making journey.
